

Figure. Effect of fragments and the matrix on beetle richness in the 1st and 3rd decades of the experiment. Effect size is the mean difference in site-scale $\ln(\text{richness})$ of fragments from controls, or matrix from controls, estimated with a generalized linear mixed model. Bars are 95% confidence intervals. Total species richness 671, while average richness was 32.5 species per site.